

Psychology Graduate Program MA Worksheet

DATE CREDITS

All students must take the following courses:

Introduction to Psychological Science (56:830:510, 3 credits) _____

Graduate Research Methods (56:830:580, 3 credits) _____

Graduate Statistics & Research Design (56:830:650, 3 credits) _____

All students must take at least 3 of the following courses:

Graduate Developmental (56:830:626, 3 credits) _____

Graduate Personality (56:830:631, 3 credits) _____

Graduate Social (56:830:635, 3 credits) _____

Graduate Health (56:830:648, 3 credits) _____

Graduate Abnormal (56:830:640, 3 credits) _____

Graduate Cognitive (56:830:662, 3 credits) _____

Graduate Physiological (56:830:675, 3 credits) _____

Additionally, all students must take 4 additional courses for a total of 30 credits. Students on the thesis track should consider taking Thesis Proposal (56:830:590) and Thesis Research (56:830:690) which provide students with enough credit to be enrolled full time. Up to two of the four classes can be taken outside the psychology department with the Graduate Director’s permission.

Note: It is possible to enroll in upper level (300 and 400) psychology classes as a graduate student with permission of the instructor and the Graduate Director. Note that this will require filling out a “G Prefix Form” available from the Graduate School’s web page (Click on “Current Students”, then “Forms”)

Class 1: _____

Class 2: _____

Class 3: _____

Class 4: _____

TOTAL CREDITS: _____

[MUST ADD TO 30]